A believer in good design, the role as a Kvadrat specialist, involves working closely and supporting Architects, Interior designers, Acoustic consultants and End Users achieve their design intent.

Kvadrat is a Danish textile company established in 1968, the products reflect a great commitment to colour, quality, simplicity, innovation and design. Hence its not just the textile but the design story behind every textile that lends it its timelessness and makes it a classic. Working in an environment which believes in the importance of design stories definitely strengthens my view on how stories impact design.

Design stories! There is an aspect of design in everything around us, manmade and otherwise. As you get consumed by the fast-paced digital world it is important to look closer at the environment around us and stories about design, it makes one curious about everyday spaces and events.

I self published a book in 2019, 'Once upon a time in Basvangudi', a documentation of the restoration and redesign of a residence in Basavangudi, it documents the historical significance of the neighbourhood, the architectural features and their relevance to the design and the restoration measures.

My design firm Design-storey was born in 2011 and ever since we have executed architecture and interior design projects in Bangalore and Tamil Nadu. We focus on achieving high standards in design and collaborate with partners in the industry. We have successfully completed some high-end residences architecture and interior design in Bangalore and commercial interiors in Bangalore for QPAve, Astones,

Report:

A webinar on Business Communication through Story Telling was organised on 29th July, 2020 on Google Meet. The session was conducted by Ms. Arathi K. Pagiri explained the students on Design Tools Story Telling in design. She spoke about connecting stories to every material used in design. She discussed how one needs to be curious to create story board, doodles or make posters, short stories or poems, mote them down and make it their life long journey. She also discussed the concepts like skill, re-skill and up skill. She added that skill is something which you give yourself and which is timeless and keeps getting better with time. To keep learning new skills is to re-skills and continuing the scale it up to up skill. Every picture tells a story. Image depicts something and transmits messages. She displayed many images and discussed how every image can be related to a story. It was an interactive session and was very different and learning experience for the students.

Report:

The Department of English of Kaveri College of Arts, Science and Commerce- Faculty of Arts, organized a webinar on 'Doing English Novelty- Innovative Techniques of Teaching and Learning English' on 20 February, 2021.

Dr. Pronema Bagchi, the guest speaker began the technical session with an icebreaker activity by taking a survey on a question. The poll was conducted by Dr. Bagchi and later the results were declared. Dr. Bagchi suggested the participants, which included teachers from various institutes to opt for a toll called 'mentimeter.com' for creating interactive power point presentations during the new normal. She said that the most important part concerned with teaching and learning is the willingness to communicate. She mentioned the ACTFL model (American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages) and gave the four 'C's- Communities, Culture, Connections, and Comparisons. She mentioned the ubiquitous nature of English as well. Dr. Bagchi also brought forth the necessity of communication in learning any language. She suggested the teachers use the three modes for teaching- Presentational, Interpersonal and Interpretative. For learners present as participants for the session, she said that if they follow the same model along with the four learning skills, Listening, Speaking, Reading and Writing (LSRW), nothing would stop them from becoming the best communicators. She explained that 'Doing Language through Literature' is one of the methods of doing English novelty. Dr. Bagchi gave a few tips on designing the teacher's English lessons by following the pre-teaching, teaching and post-teaching activities including A-V aids, interaction and games in the respective stages. She took up two poems as examples for teaching innovatively. The teaching of poems involved activities like 'Listening with Eyes', composing a new poem from the last line of a poem, etc. The session was filled with interaction with the participants in the session by Dr. Bagchi. At the end of the session talked about the theory of 'Multiple Intelligences' by Howard Gardiner. Around 50 participants benefited from the session
Dr. Bagchi ended the session with a small quote by Confucius-

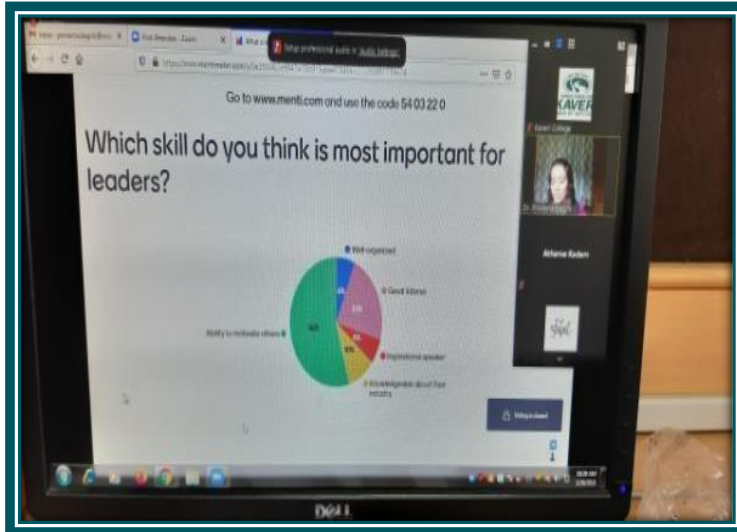

"I Hear and I Forget

I see and I Remember

I Do and I Understand"

Report:

A One Day Workshop on Creative Writing was organized on 5 February 2019. The Department of English and Kaveri Soft Skill Development Centre (KSDC) conducted the workshop jointly in association with Board of Student Development, Savitribai Phule Pune University, Pune. Vice Principal, Dr. Muckta Karmarkar, inaugurated the workshop and felicitated Dr. Supriya Sahasrabuddhe, the Resource Person for the Workshop. She advised the participants to get started with writing and give words to their ideas. Dr. Sahasrabuddhe discussed the aspects of Creative Writing and gave examples from Indian mythology and Greek mythology to make the participants understand about the process of Creative Writing. She said that to be good at Creative Writing one must have sound knowledge of her/his culture, traditions and ancestors. She also advised the participants to develop 'inward eyes' to broaden their mental and inward vision. She explained the elements of Creative Writing such as emotions, Beauty, Love, Faith, and Experience etc.

Dr. Sahasrabuddhe also gave an idea about the career opportunities available in the field of Creative Writing. She said there are job opportunities in the areas such as Mass Media, Films, Drama, Advertising, Copywriting, and free-lancing etc.

The workshop received a good response in the form of 50 participants who came from various Colleges such as St. Mira's College for Girls, Fergusson College, S.P. College and MES's Garware College, Symbiosis College etc.
